

Bayside Dysphagia Diagnostics

MOBILE FEES · FACILITY PREPARATION GUIDE

Before Bayside Arrives

- Physician order / script for the FEES evaluation on file prior to the visit — this also serves as the facility's written direction to Bayside.
- Signed consent from the resident or legal representative.
- Current diet order and relevant swallowing / aspiration history available for the clinician to review.
- Known contraindications flagged in advance — e.g. recent nasal/sinus surgery, significant epistaxis risk, or inability to tolerate a brief nasal exam.
- A private, well-lit space, ideally with the resident seated upright in a chair or wheelchair rather than in bed.
- Food and liquid trial items matching the resident's current or target diet level · Bayside brings the endoscopic equipment, but relies on the facility to supply the actual food and drink used in the trial.
- A staff member on hand — facility SLP, RN, or other designated clinical staff — to assist and observe.
- Suction equipment on standby, per your facility's standard protocol.

Day of the Visit

01

Setup & Check-In

Clinician checks in with staff, confirms consent and readiness, and sets up in the resident's room.

02

The Evaluation

A thin endoscope is passed transnasally while the resident eats and drinks the provided trial textures — the swallow is viewed in real time.

03

Results & Recommendations

Findings are reviewed on the spot with available staff, with a formal report and diet/exercise recommendations to follow.

After the visit: Bayside collaborates directly with your facility SLP on recommendations and care planning. Residents typically receive a single FEES evaluation unless your facility requests a re-evaluation. Questions about scheduling, orders, or a specific resident's readiness are always welcome before the visit — a quick call avoids a wasted trip for everyone.

About Bayside

Melanie Reynolds, MS, CCC-SLP

FOUNDER · SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGIST

ASHA-certified with 25+ years across inpatient, outpatient, and acute hospital settings including Cape Cod Hospital, South Shore Hospital, Boston Medical Center, and Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital. FEES instructor, BU Sargent College guest lecturer, and published researcher.

 baysidefees.com

 (508) 534-8646

 info@baysidefees.com

 100 Independence Drive
Hyannis, MA 02601